Part III - EU General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679

How far are Swiss universities being affected?

- ➔ Extraterritorial effect - Art. 3 (2)
- ➔ The GDPR applies to the processing of personal data of a controller or a processor not established in the EU, under condition that the processing activities are related to:
  - the offering of goods or services to data subjects in the EU - Art. 3 (2) a; or
  - the monitoring of data subjects' behaviour as far as their behaviour takes place within the EU - Art. 3 (2) b.
- ➔ It is sufficient that the stay of the data subject in the EU was temporary, when the processing activity occurred
- ➔ Neither the nationality nor the status as an EU citizen of the data subject is relevant

Offering of goods or services to data subjects in the EU - Art. 3 (2) a

- ➔ Not relevant whether goods and services are subject to payment or are free of charge
- ➔ Goods or services must be "intended" to be offered in the EU
  - Indications are provided by Recital 23: "... factors such as the use of a language or a currency generally used in one or more Member States with the possibility of ordering goods and services in that other language, or the mentioning of customers or users who are in the Union, may make it apparent that the controller envisages offering goods or services to data subjects in the Union."
  - However the question whether or not goods or services are aimed at resp. offered to persons staying in the EU must be determined in an overall view, in which other factors may play a role as well
- ➔ Possible cases, where Swiss universities may trigger the applicability of the GDPR:
  - Contracted research
  - Cross-border service provided by an institute or hospital of the university, such as dental and microbiological examinations

Monitoring of data subjects' behaviour in the EU - Art. 3 (2) b

- ➔ Measures must be intended to provide for a sustainable observation of the data subject
  - Indications are provided by Recital 24: “ ... In order to determine whether a processing activity can be considered to monitor the behaviour of data subjects, it should be ascertained whether natural persons are tracked on the internet including potential subsequent use of personal data processing techniques which consist of profiling a natural person, particularly in order to take decisions concerning her or him or for analysing or predicting her or his personal preferences, behaviours and attitudes.”
  - Includes social plugins and cookies, which enable individual traceability of users, which e.g. pursue the purpose of individual advertising (targeted advertising). Does not include measures which are intended only as a one-off activity, such as session cookies for the purpose of online shopping
- ➔ Possible cases, where Swiss universities may trigger the applicability of the GDPR:
  - Collection of personal data from test persons located in the EU e.g. for surveys or measurements in research projects, in particular through questionnaires on websites of the university or through apps, provided by the university for research projects
  - Monitoring the progress in e-learning tools resp. online courses offered to students in the EU

Impact: What are the keypoints?

- ➔ New obligations on information to be provided to data subjects - Art. 12, 13 and 14
- ➔ Data Protection Impact Assessment - Art. 35
- ➔ Conditions for consent - Art. 7
- ➔ Right of data access by the data subject - Art. 15
- ➔ Right to be forgotten - Art. 17
- ➔ Data protection by design and by default - Art. 25
- ➔ Security of processing - Art. 32
- ➔ Data breach reporting to supervisory authorities - Art. 33, and to affected data subjects - Art. 34
- ➔ Fines Art. 83 (4) a) and Art. 83 (5) b)
- ➔ Liability for damages suffered by the data subject - Art. 82

How far is scientific research privileged?

- Consent: data subjects may give their consent to the processing of their personal data for one or more specific purposes - Art. 6 (1) a
- Purpose limitation: further processing for scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes shall not be considered to be incompatible with the initial purposes - Art. 5 (1) b
- Storage limitation: personal data may be stored for longer periods - Art. 5 (1) e
- General prohibition of the processing of special categories of personal data: special categories of personal data may be processed contrary to the general prohibition - Art. 9 (2) j
- Information to be provided where personal data have not been obtained from the data subject: data controllers may be exempted from their obligation to provide information to the data subjects - Art. 14 (5) b
- Right to be forgotten: data controllers may be exempted from their obligation to delete personal data - Art. 17 (3) d
- Right to object: Non-application of the right of objection if personal data are processed for scientific or historical research purposes and the processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out for reasons of public interest - Art. 21 (6)
- All derogations are subject to the condition, that the prerequisites and safeguards articulated in Recital 156 and stipulated by Art. 89 (1) for the rights and freedoms of the data subjects are established
